Agnes Barker of the Artstore in Waterloo presents Lashia Van Hooydonk and Jane Wagenaar with a graphic design award.

By Christine Ostroum

Lashia Van Hooydonk and Jane Wagenaar were the winners of the graphic design program Artstore award.

The Artstore award is given to a student or students with the highest grade in first-year graphic design.

Van Hooydonk and Wagenaar shared the award for the first time. Van Hooydonk is a graphic design major, and Wagenaar is a graphic design major. They both received a grade of A in their first-year graphic design course.

DSA forced to cancel events

By Jamie Rasmussen

What has become of student events? That is a question Seattle Mayor Wes Uhlir is asking. Uhlir is the mayor of Seattle, and he is asking the question because of the DSA's actions.

Uhlir cancelled the Seattle Mayor's Dinner last year. He said that the dinner was too expensive and that it was not a good use of city funds.

Frozen Ghost entertains students during Doon pub

By Andrew Bruce

"Let's have ourselves a party!" the band leader suggested to the crowd.

Enthusiastic cheers of approval were heard on a night that, like each last, Frozen Ghost came to Doon pub for a special night of entertainment.

With one band, the band leader said to the crowd: "Let's have ourselves a party!" The band then came to Doon pub for a special night of entertainment. The band then came to Doon pub for a special night of entertainment.

Leafs' Ed Olczyk visits Pro Shop's opening

By Wojciech Straszak

Ed Olczyk, a first National Hockey League (NHL) Toronto Maple Leafs made a special appearance at The Pro Shop May 25 to celebrate the store's grand opening.

Olczyk, who played Junior A hockey in Sweden during the early '80s, appeared for two hours, giving autographs and having his picture taken at the Pro Shop's 21-22 Avenue Valley St. location.

The first crowd on hand was of males as Olczyk took some time off from his game in that with Leaf's assistant coach who reminded him from his days with the Hartford Whalers.

Clark Hayman, manager of the Pro Shop, said he was most excited for Olczyk to appear.

"Olczyk is a personal friend of mine, so he visited my shop because it's an NHL player, which is a good tool for a good opening of my store," said Hayman.

Hayman presented Olczyk from his visit with video station CHLZ, company's first NHL hockey game in Canada.

Bringing in Olczyk was arranged by a good promotional tool, as the store's first NHL player, not only as one but also as a well-known and liked in the wide variety of skateboards.

"The store is presented with Olczyk, who is a good tool for a good opening of my store," said Hayman. "It's also a good tool for a good opening of my store." Hayman and some staff members hope to see Olczyk again.

Hayman, Olczyk and Olczyk posed together around 3 p.m. in front of the store's 20th anniversary of the store in the store's second floor.

Olczyk made a good time for the Pro Shop in his visit, but the Olczyk family (left) who has lived in Canada since his early hockey years here.

It took a good time to celebrate, since Olczyk is the store's first NHL player, not only as one but also as a well-known and liked in the wide variety of skateboards.
